Natural Gas Council Announces Website Launch

NGC Launches www.NaturalGasCouncil.org

Washington, D.C. – The Natural Gas Council (NGC), which represents the companies that collectively include nearly all aspects of the production, transportation, sales and delivery of the nation’s natural gas, announced today the launch of its new website: www.NaturalGasCouncil.org.

The website offers quick, easy access to essential information and a more comprehensive understanding of the Council’s mission and history. The website includes links to NGC studies, fact sheets, regulatory filings and press releases since 2014, as well as information on and links to the five trade associations that comprise the Natural Gas Council.

"We are excited about the new website’s launch and the convenience it provides to better understand the Natural Gas Council’s mission and body of work," said Dena Wiggins, president and CEO of the Natural Gas Supply Association, which leads the NGC in 2018. "Centralizing NGC press releases, reports and regulatory filings at a dedicated website should help raise awareness of the Council and its significance to the industry."

The NGC was formed in 1992, for the first time ever uniting all sectors of the natural gas industry to work together toward common goals. The five full members of the Council are the American Gas Association, the American Petroleum Institute, the Interstate Natural Gas Association of America, the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the Natural Gas Supply Association. Leadership of the NGC rotates annually, with the Natural Gas Supply Association leading the Council in 2018.
